Research Experience

- International Business School, University of International Business and Economics
Investigator, advised by Dr. Xuejiao Liu
Research topic: The Influence of State Ownership on Forecast Optimism: Evidence from China's Real Estate Policy Shift
Responsible for: Literature review, data processing, empirical designing, writing
Abstract: The study employs a quasi-DiD approach to investigate whether macroeconomic analysts in state-owned brokerages tend to issue more optimistic forecasts for the real estate sector following a major policy shift in December 2021. In addition to examining the direct impact of forecast optimism on brokerages' investment behavior, the research further explores whether these brokerages have more financial ties through share-holding in real estate firms.
June 2024-present
(Work in progress)
- International Business School, University of International Business and Economics
Research assistant for Dr. Xuejiao Liu
Research topic: The Reform of Loan Loss Provisioning System and the Forward-Looking Human Capital Demand of Commercial Banks
Responsible for: test variable searching, data collection, data cleaning
Abstract: This study investigates whether commercial banks increased their demand for forward-looking skills after implementing the IFRS9 Expected Credit Loss model. I contributed to the development of a key-word dictionary focused on forward-looking skills, which enabled us to gauge skill demand by the word frequency in job descriptions.
